Introduction

People in poverty pay more for essentials such as energy, insurance and credit. This is known as the poverty premium. Fair By Design (FBD) is a highly successful influencing programme dedicated to ending the extra costs of being poor. FBD is run by the Barrow Cadbury Trust but please note it is not a grants programme.

We are looking for a talented individual with a track record of successfully delivering communications and public affairs to join our team. Using your skills and experience you will help us to achieve our mission of eliminating the poverty premium by ensuring our communications are persuasive and impactful and that our messages are heard by policymakers and those in power.

This will require knowledge of communications platforms and tools, as well as experience in providing a communications function for an organisation. In addition to developing and delivering our external-facing communications, you will also be part of a small team, where you'll be responsible for our internal communications, from providing the secretariat to our Steering Group and supporting our evaluation work, to diary and event management

Responsibilities

Alongside director, help develop FBD's communications strategy and proactively implement it across all channels.

Alongside director, ensure FBD has strong links with key parliamentarians, ministers and shadow ministers, select committees, All Party groups, advisers and officials.

Ensure we communicate well with our internal stakeholders and provide wider team support.

To include:

1. Create and deliver imaginative, creative content and campaigns that generate interest in the work of FBD, including the production of engaging, high-quality content and campaigns for our social media channels and website.
2. Monitor the external environment including relevant media, policy, parliamentary and political developments and provide timely intelligence to the FBD team.
3. Prepare high quality briefings, drafting correspondence and press releases, and supporting consultation responses.
4. Forge partnerships with other organisations to help deliver communications and public affairs objectives and manage our contact database.
5. Event management including drafting and sending out briefings and invites, coordinating responses, liaising with venues and organising logistics.
6. Track and understand our communications and public affairs impact across all of our channels and contribute to our evaluation work.
7. Ensure that the views, experiences and voices of people with personal experience of poverty and the poverty premium are reflected in our work.
8. Draft papers for the BCT Board.
9. Provide secretariat for the FBD Steering Group and support for other relevant meetings.
10. Support FBD fundraising activities.
11. Team administration, including diary management, day-to-day update on committed spend of budget and processing of invoices.
12. To work flexibly as a team player and carry out any other duties that may reasonably be required.
